Bholaram Ka Jeev

(Bholaram's Soul)

A modern adaptation. Screenplay by Ivan Philips. Colour theory, texture design, script breakdown, prop lists, space planning and set floor plans.

SYNOPSIS

The story in one page

Bholaram, an honest irrigation clerk, gave 35 years to the government. In old age he stands in a Pension Office queue for one missing signature that never comes. Debt, a daughter's broken marriage proposal and a fresh 'Form 16-B' break him and he dies of a heart attack. His body is found; his soul is missing.

In the Department of Afterlife, corporate emperor Yamraj sends a Yamdoot to trace it. The soul is found trapped inside Bholaram's own pension file in the Archives, beside Savitri Devi's, filed 12 years ago, and hundreds more. Even the Lord of Death, put on hold by the Head Clerk, loses to the system. Red tape never dies.

ACT ONE | Sc.1-4

Earth. Idealism to exhaustion to death. Irrigation Dept, Pension Office, Bholaram's house.

ACT TWO | Sc.5-11

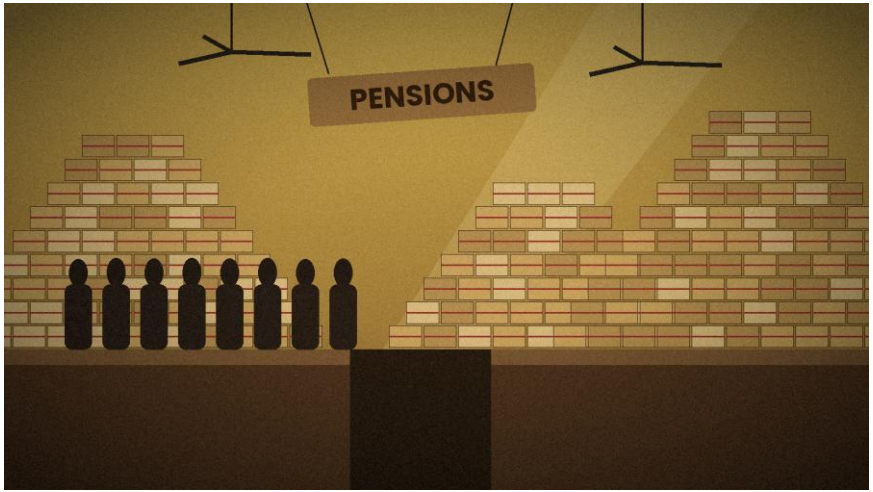

Afterlife dispatch; Yamdoot crosses Public Services and finds the souls in the archive.

ACT THREE | Sc.12-15

Escalation by phone, Yamraj on hold, final image of the endless archive.

DESIGN CONCEPT

Two worlds, one system: procedure

EARTH | Decayed, crowded, paper-heavy

Sepia light, dust, red string, hand-painted signs, clutter that keeps growing. The building is the satire.

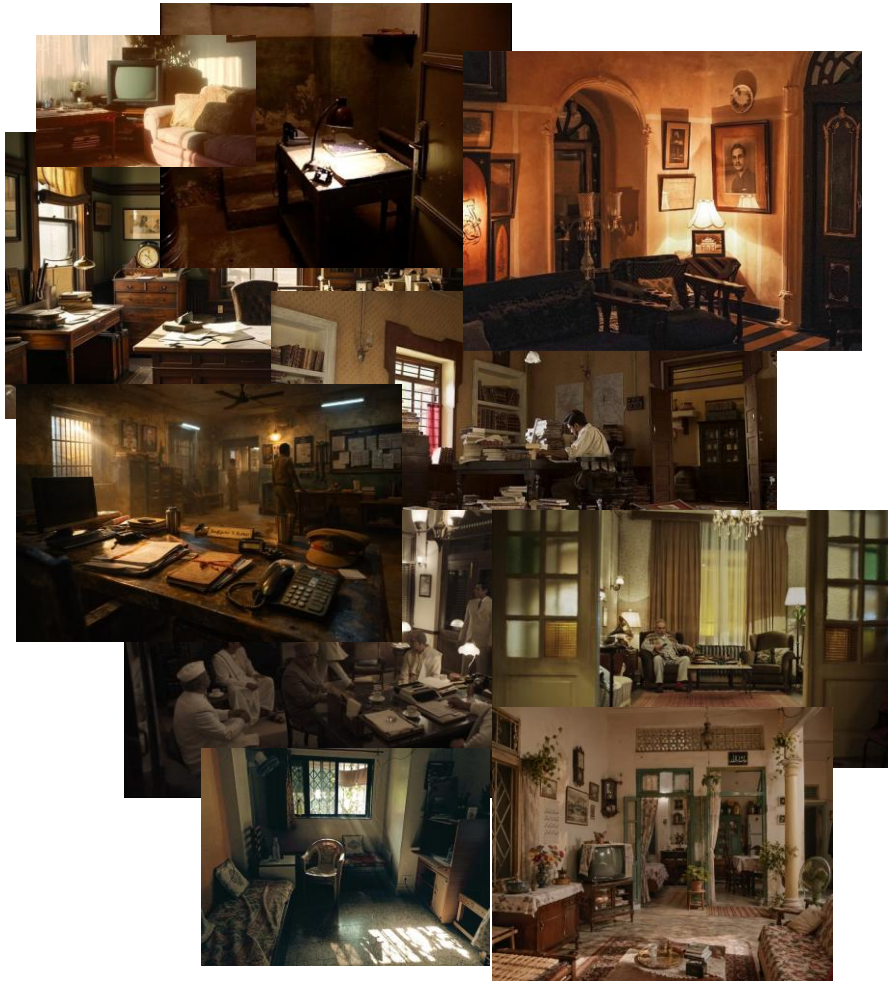

AFTERLIFE | Sleek, corporate, controlled

Slate, glass, steel, mahogany, strict symmetry. Same bureaucracy, better branding. Concept frames on this slide are original design illustrations.

AFTERLIFE | Sleek, corporate, controlled

EARTH | Decayed, crowded, paper-heavy

VISUAL LANGUAGE

Motifs, lighting,

Core motif

Paper + red stamp + file labels + THWACK. The pension file literally becomes the container of the soul. Red is the only recurring accent: Sc.1, 2, 10, 15.

Lighting

Earth offices: stale fluorescent / flat daylight. Home: harsh sickly tube. Afterlife: cool controlled light. Archives: dim pools, deep shadow, dust haze.

Typography & signage

Earth: hand-painted, chipped, crooked Hindi/English signs. Afterlife: polished brushed-steel lettering and clean digital dashboard graphics.

Camera / composition

Earth compressed and layered (Bholaram dwarfed by files). Afterlife symmetrical with negative space. Archive: deep aisles, slow zoom, final pull-back.

Continuity

Same Pension Section, red-string files, boardroom and palettes repeat across scenes. Set once, reuse: Pension Section appears in Sc.2, 9-11, 13, 15.

Scale

Public Services is brutalist and monumental: architecture makes citizens small. The archive scale is the final image.

Palettes: temperature, harmony and accent

EARTH | warm, analogous

Sepia yellow | Faded cream | Dirty beige | Manila | Admin red

AFTERLIFE | cool, near-monochrome

Slate grey | Black | Steel | Cool white | Mahogany

STORY ACCENTS

Marigold (Sc.4) | Stamp red | Rust (Sc.7)

Analogous harmony (Earth)

Yellow, ochre, brown, cream sit side by side: a sick, uniform warmth that feels like nicotine-stained paper. Nothing relieves it, so the world feels stuck.

Warm vs cool contrast

The cut from sepia to slate in Sc.5 is a temperature shock; it tells us "another world" without a line of dialogue.

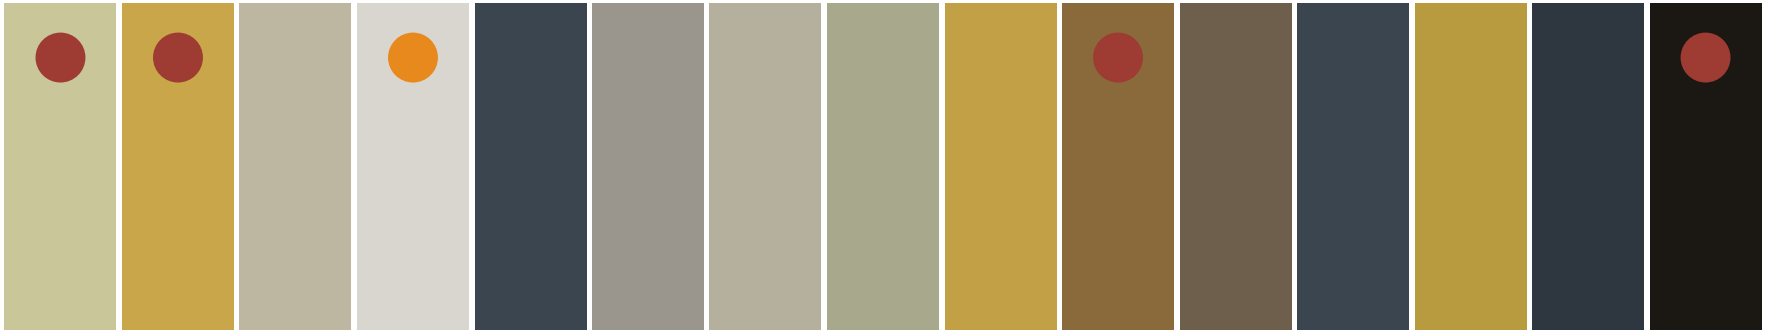

Red as the single accent

Red on yellow-brown reads as urgency and authority: stamp, string, PENDING, UNDER REVIEW. It is the one colour that means power in both worlds.

Saturation script

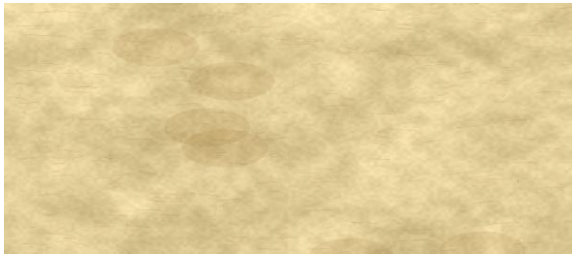

Colour drains as Bholaram declines: cream/green (Sc.1) to dirty grey (Sc.3) to desaturated white + marigold (Sc.4).

Scene-by-scene colour script

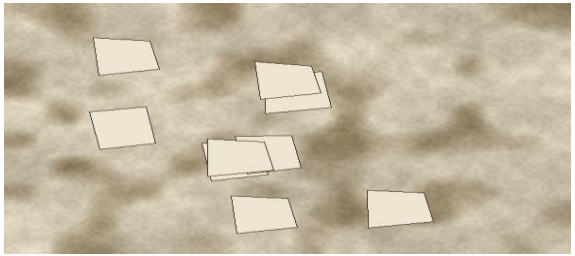

Circle = accent colour in the scene. 1 flashback, cream/green | 2-4 Earth, sepia to grey | 5, 12, 14 Afterlife slate | 6-8 Public Services concrete/beige | 9-15 Pension Section and Archive, sepia to near-black

Material language and how each surface is built

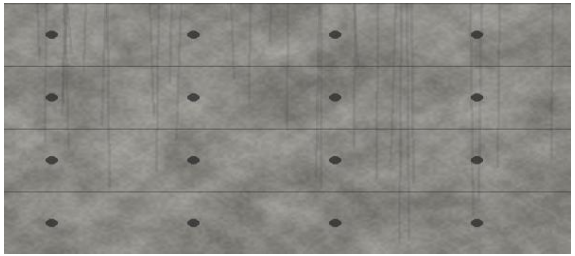

Aged paper

Yellowed stock, fibre and stain. Tea-wash + sanding on prints. Sc.1, 2, 10, 15

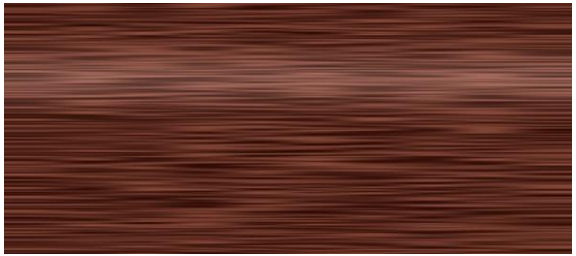

Peeling damp plaster

Latex peel-paint over damp-stain glazing. Bholaram's house, Sc.3-4

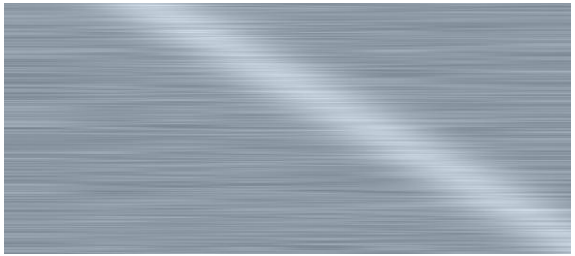

Raw concrete

Board-marked formwork + tie holes; foam/plaster facade. Sc.5-8

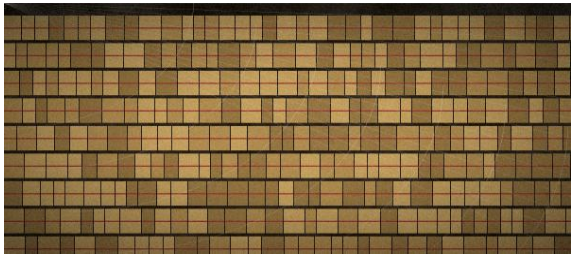

Mahogany

Dark, glossy, straight grain: only "expensive" material on Earth-facing eyes. Yamraj desk

Brushed steel / glass

Cool, reflective, sterile. Wall lettering, partitions, dashboard. Sc.5, 12, 14

Files, string and cobweb

Red-string manila spines, dust, cobweb in corners. Archive Sc.10, 11, 15

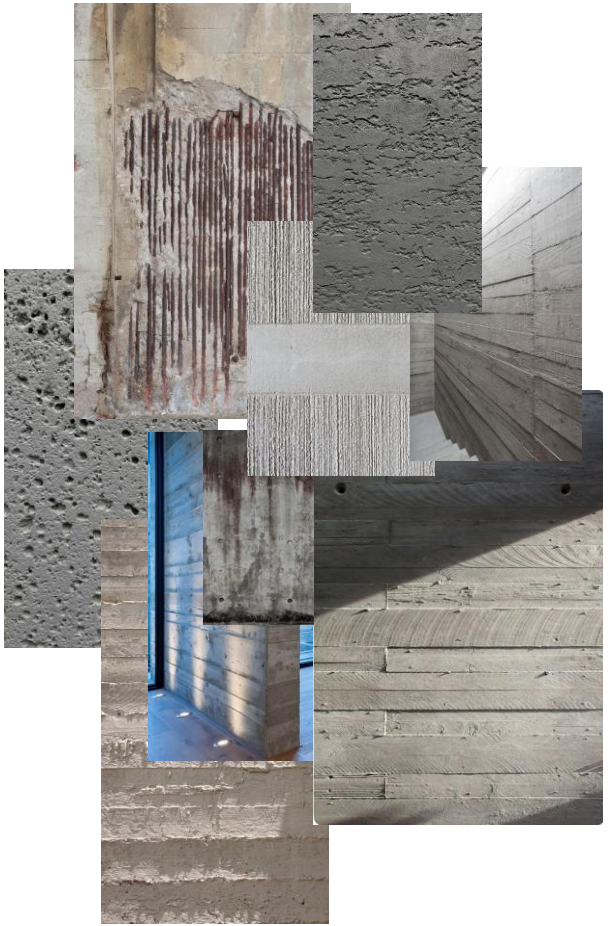

Aged paper

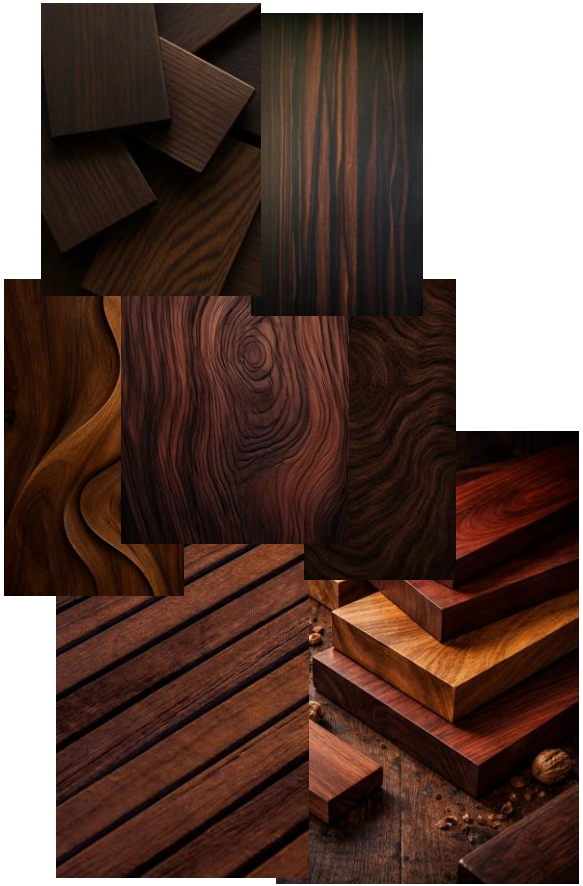

Peeling damp plaster

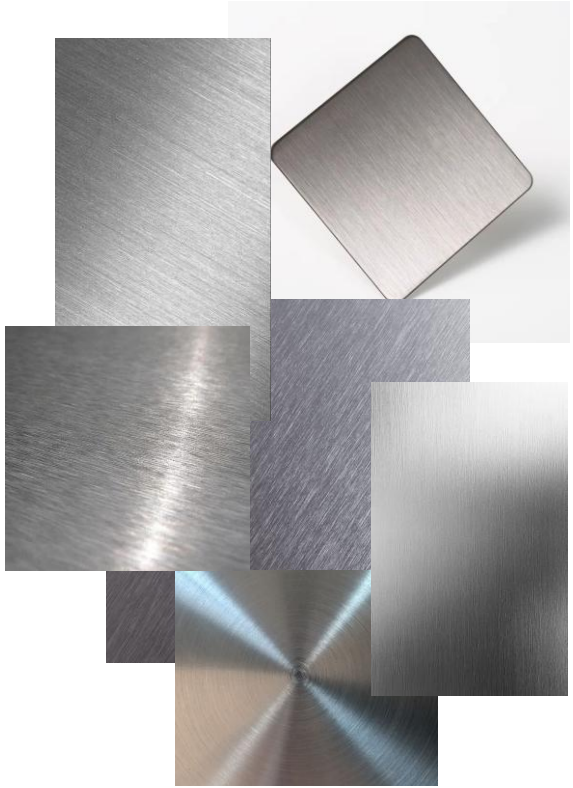

Raw concrete

Mahogany

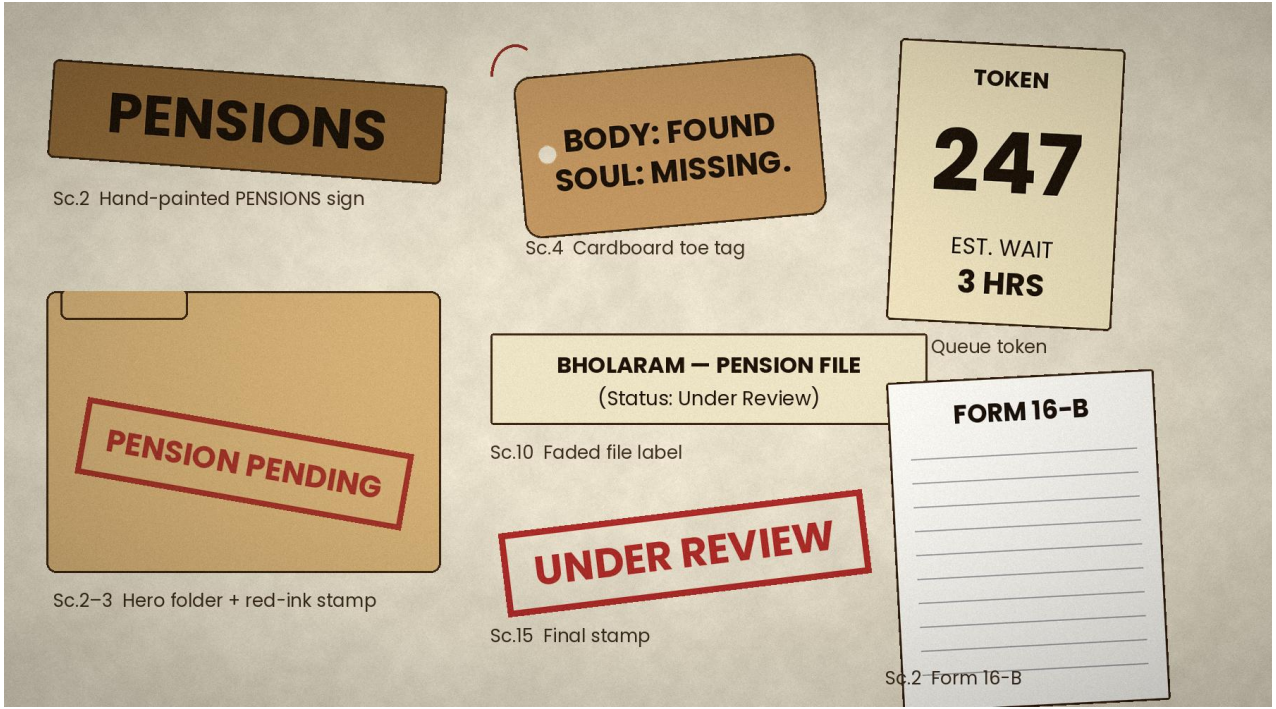

Brushed steel / glass

Files, string and cobweb

Hero graphics designed for fabrication

Sc.2 Hand-painted PENSIONS sign

Sc.4 Cardboard toe tag

Queue token

Sc.2–3 Hero folder + red-ink stamp

Sc.10 Faded file label

Sc.15 Final stamp

Sc.2 Form 16-B

Design notes

Earth graphics are hand-painted, chipped, slightly crooked. Toe tag is official-looking kraft card; the joke is in the deadpan lettering.

Afterlife dashboard title (glowing, clean sans):

आत्मा पुनर्प्राप्ति विशेष कार्यबल

SCRIPT BREAKDOWN

Scenes 9–15 (2/2)

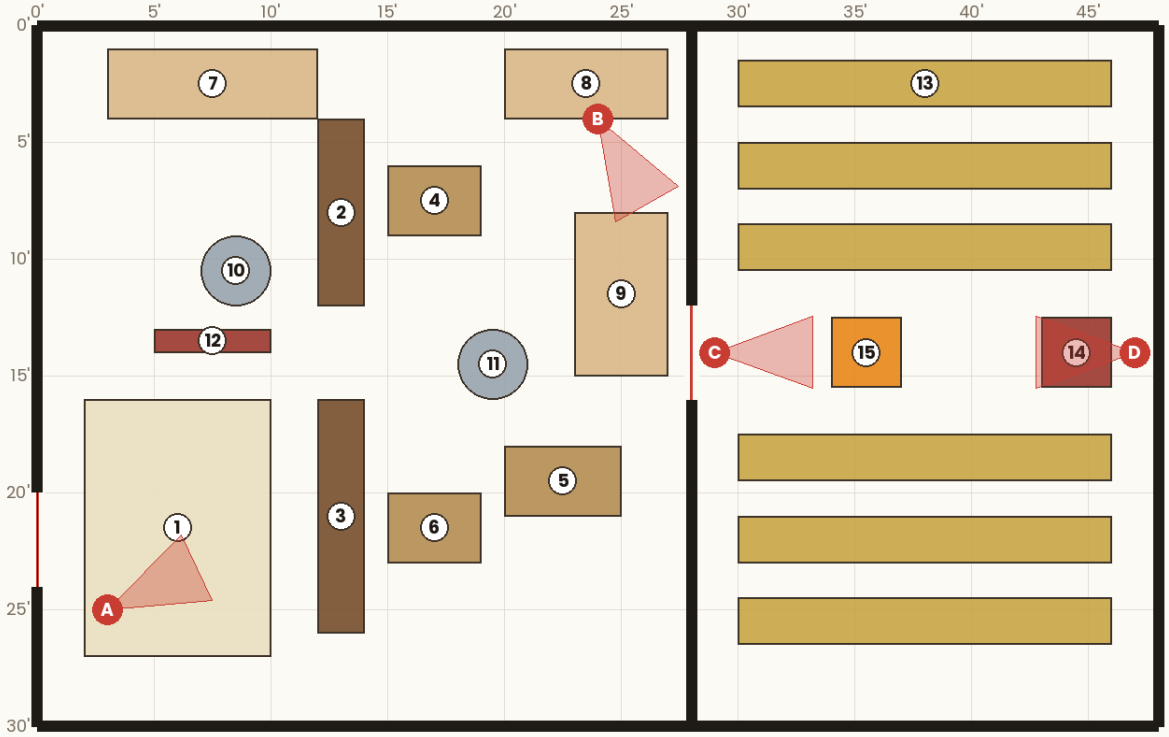

Sc	I/E	Location	Time	Characters	Set / space	Colour	Texture	Key props	Lighting
9	INT	Pension Section	Day	Yamdoot; Junior Clerk; Head Clerk (50s)	Pension desk + Head Clerk workstation; towering files	Same sepia palette	Dust; old laminate; yellowed paper; electronics	Desktop; files; counter	Stale office light
10	INT	Pension Section — Archives	Later (same day)	Yamdoot; Bholaram's Soul; Voice (O.S.)	Tight archive aisles; labyrinth of paper	Yellowed paper/brown/black	Decayed paper; dust; cobwebs	Bholaram file; notices; stacks	Dim pools/deep shadows
11	INT	Pension Section — Archives	Continuous	Yamdoot; Second Voice / Savitri Devi's Soul	Deeper archive reveal; adjacent Savitri file	Low-saturation brown/grey	Older paper; cobwebs; brittle cardboard	Savitri file; endless folders	Colder dim light
12	INT	Dept. Afterlife	Day	Yamraj; Chitragupt; Yamdoot	Same symmetrical Afterlife boardroom	Slate/black/cool white	Concrete; glass; mahogany	Desk; tablet; dashboard	Cool controlled
13	INT	Pension Section	Continuous	Head Clerk; Chitragupt (V.O.)	Same Pension Section; rotary phone foreground	Sepia/dull yellow	Bakelite/plastic; dusty desk; paper	Rotary phone; matchstick	Stale office light
14	INT	Dept. Afterlife	Continuous	Yamraj; Chitragupt; Head Clerk (V.O.); Automated Voice (V.O.)	Same boardroom; phone on speaker; reaction space	Cool slate/black	Glass; concrete; mahogany	Phone; desk; dashboard	Cool controlled
15	INT	Pension Section — Archives	Late Evening		Huge archive/warehouse illusion; final stack isolated	Near-black + yellowed paper + red	Decayed paper; dust; cobwebs	Bholaram/Savitri files; red stamp; background files	Late-evening dim

Set inventory and planning strategy

Set	Scenes	Space-planning strategy	Floor plan
Irrigation Dept	1	Compact, orderly; desk against wall; stamp close-ups	Plan 1
Pension Section	2, 9, 13	Narrow counter opening to file storage; layered depth; one set reused	Plan 2
Pension Archives	10, 11, 15	Repeating shelves to darkness; hero aisle for the final move	Plan 2
Bholaram's House	3, 4	Windowless room; clear central floor for collapse then body	Plan 3
Dept. of Afterlife	5, 12, 14	Symmetrical boardroom on a centre axis; negative space	Plan 4
PS Exterior	6	Monumental brutalist facade; queues show scale	Concept art
PS Lobby + Corridor	7, 8	Choke point detector; congested tracking corridor	Plan 5

Build priority: Pension Section + Archives first. It is the most reusable and story-critical set (Sc.2, 9-11, 13, 15). Build the archive as modular shelf flats with a painted-depth backing so a small floor reads as endless.

SET VISUALS

Archive depth and the brutalist exterior

ARCHIVE (Sc.10, 11, 15)

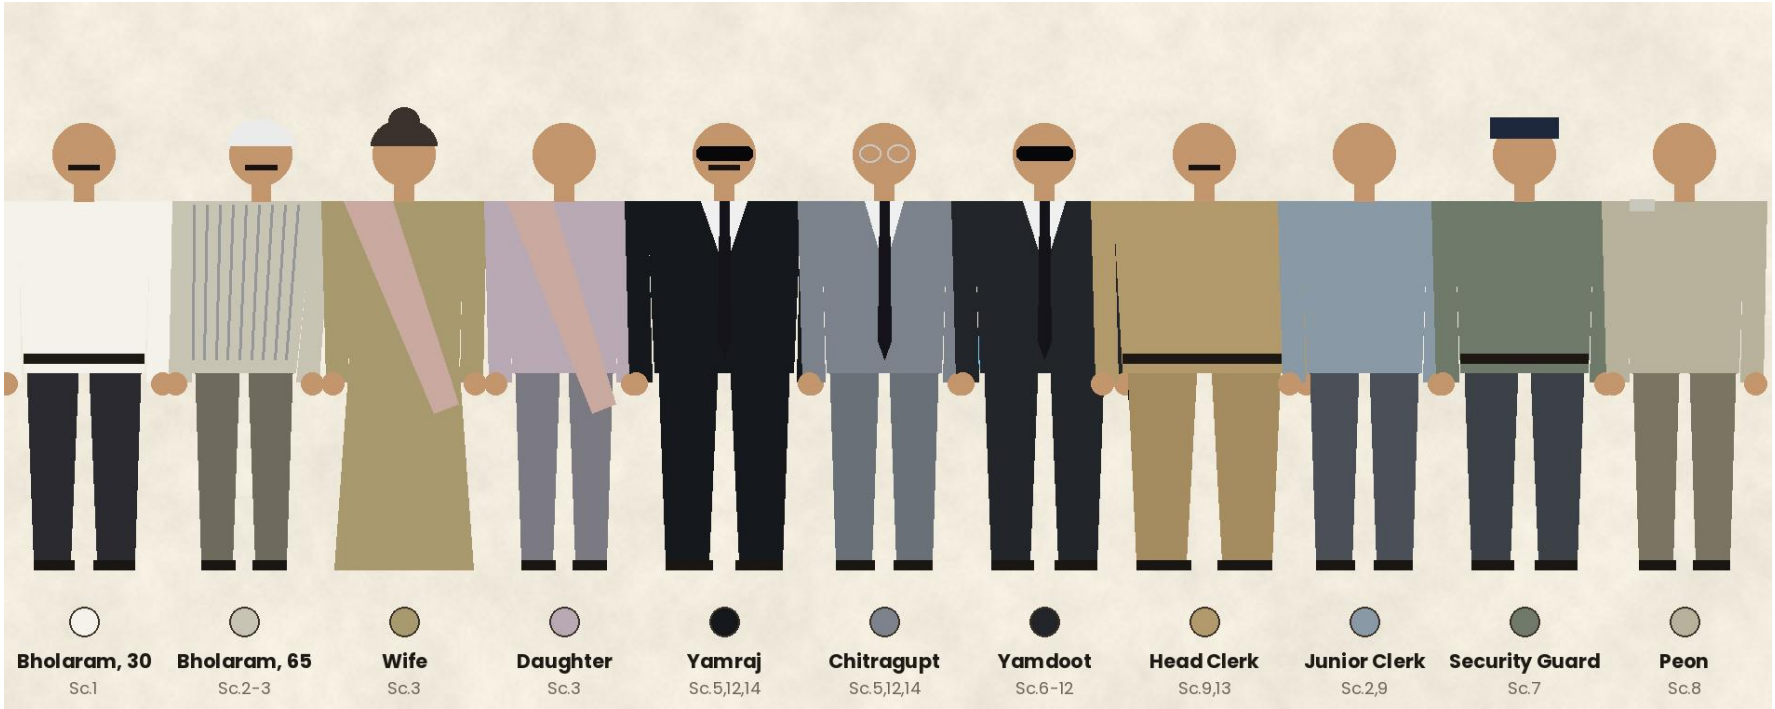

Hero aisle lit in a dim pool, ghost faces glowing on folder spines, warm dust haze, black at the vanishing point.

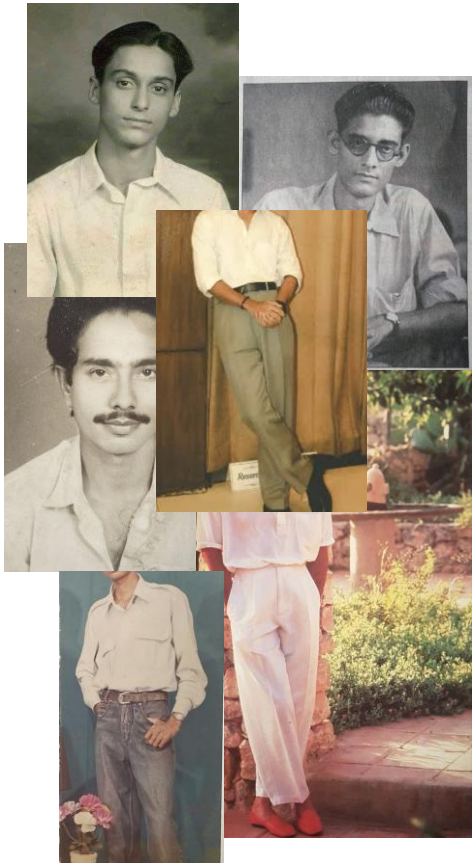

PUBLIC SERVICES EXTERIOR (Sc.6)

Grid of deep-set windows on a raw concrete slab, a black void entrance, endless queue. Yamdoot in black stands out as the only figure with purpose.

Costume concept: hierarchy through clothing

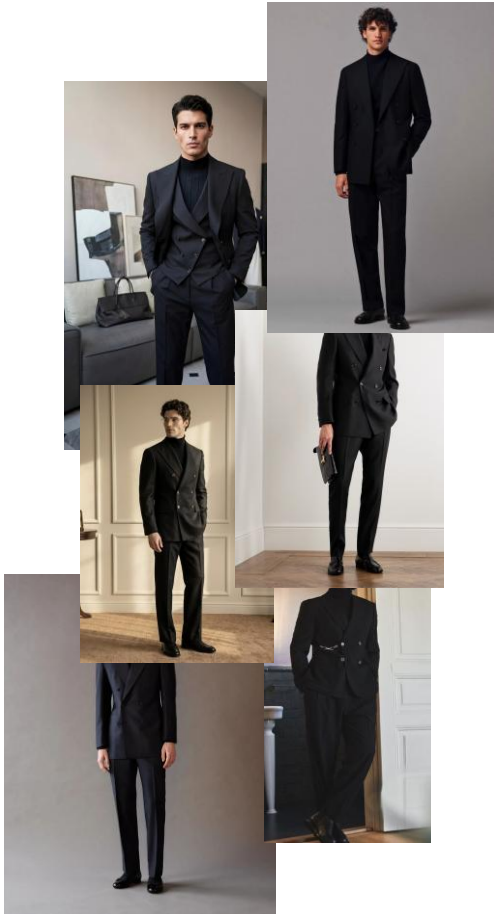

Earth staff wear dated, muted, worn fabrics that sag and fade. Afterlife figures wear sharp black and grey corporate suiting, so death reads as management. Yamdoot keeps the same suit into the human world and stands out as the only figure with purpose. Figures are flat design illustrations, not final reference.

Mourning relatives	4	Huddled, subdued	Desaturated white / grey	Cotton	Subdued mourning clothes	None	Bare feet / sandals

COSTUME PROGRESSION

Bholaram: idealism to exhaustion to shroud

Costume aging: soak in tea-wash, sand cuffs and collar, let the shirt hang two sizes large. Keep Sc.2 and Sc.3 shirt identical for continuity.

What changes

Age 30: crisp white, tucked in, straight-backed. The shirt is starched and stamps hard with him.

Age 65: same cotton, now loose, striped and faded; hair and moustache greyed; posture folds inward.

Shroud: clean white for the first time in decades; marigold is the only saturated colour in the frame.

COSTUME PALETTE

Colour, fabric and sourcing

Bholaram 30 | Bholaram 65 | Wife | Daughter | Yamraj | Chitragupt | Yamdoot | Head Clerk | Junior Clerk | Guard | Peon

Colour logic

Earth costumes sit inside the sepia/beige palette and fade into their sets. Afterlife costumes are black, grey and white: cool, high-contrast, corporate. Only Bholaram young and the shroud are truly white.

Fabric logic

Synthetic, shiny-worn fabrics for the state (safari suit, uniform). Tailored wool-look suiting for Afterlife. Soft washed cotton for family and Bholaram.

Source / build

Build: Bholaram 65 striped shirt, shroud, Yamraj and Yamdoot suits. Source: sari, safari suit, uniform, kurta, peon and clerk wear from rental or thrift.

Continuity

Yamdoot suit unchanged Sc.6-11. Head Clerk safari suit identical Sc.9, 13. Bholaram 65 shirt same in Sc.2 and 3; costume must be stunt-safe for the collapse.
